JAMES (P) TRIBBEY Introduction
February 4, 1996

by Glenn E. Tribbey

Before we begin this book, we owe a big debt of THANKS to the following good people for shareing their records with us;

- 1) Wilma Diesen, Mrs Ronald, of Midland, Michigan. Extensive research of the Kentucky and Ohio TRIBBEY, MUSE, McINTYRE, HUMPHRIES, SARGENT, MILLINER and WILDERMAN family records;
- 2) Larry Richardson of Paradise, California for shareing all the voluninous records sent to him by many correspondants, many of which he hand copied onto Family Group Sheets and sent to me, plus his own extensive research of Census, Historic and IGI records;
- 3) Allie Reed, Mrs Edsel, Jeffersonville, Indiana who shared all her records of the TRIBBEY, RICE, HAMBRICK, GREGORY, GROSE, and FARIS families;
- 4) Uncle Stanley E. Tribbey of Wilmette, Cook Cnty, Ill, who published The TRIBBEY NEWS 1952-3 which included letters from his many correspondants, and the lineage charts which he drew and published with the NEWS.
- 5) All other kind researchers whose names do not come to mind at the moment, but shared their records with others so that they could share those same records with me.
- 6) John Floyd Tribbey of New Albany, Indiana who shareing all his many efforts in compileing the JANSEN & CHRISTINA (Lady) TRIBBEY lineage through their son; BENJAMIN and his wife JOHANNA BEABOUT.

This book has been an on-going project for several years as we all benefit from the end result of increased knowledge of our heritage from all the many ancestral lines presented herein.

It has been a source of considerable pride compiling all the many bits and pieces which came together in producing this genealogy.

We can not prove all the relationships as presented in this book, but we have tried faithfully to make the best resonable guess when no proof could be found and we have tried very hard to avoid mistakes and to correct any errors as soon as they were pointed out to me if the correction seems reasonable.

We have speculated on the heritage of JANSEN TRIBBEY and again on the heritage of JOHN TRIBBEY of Bourbon Cnty, Knty. We have NO proof of the parentage of either, so we have placed them in a reasonable lineage by estimateing their birth dates to estimate their approximate ages while each produced his family. Jansen Tribbey is said to have been born in Kentuck, but NO evidence has been found to support this - and we think he probably was born in Pennsylvania or Virginia when Virginia included the Kentucky territory.

We welcome any and all correspondence concerning this book.

 Lida: She was born near Roanoke in Woodford Cnty until after the cyclone destroyed their farm buildings. Later they moved to Secor where she grew up. She and Albert lived in Eureka first, then they moved to a farm 7 miles north of El Paso, after 3 years they moved again to Washburn on Daddy Tribbey's farm, stay ed 1 year, drought ruined their crops, then they moved again to Brooks, Iowa. They rented a farm 4 miles from Corning, Iowa for 5 years, then moved again to South-west Iowa on a farm owned by her Uncle Robert Stewart. Later they moved again to a farm near Brashear where they farmed for several years until they could buy a farm, but insufficient income forced them to sell out, then they bought property near LaPlata, Missouri. Later Albert worked for the Santa Fe Railroad, until he tired of that and decided to move to Oklahoma and raise wheat. They had a friend at Guthrie who they had known in Iowa and he helped Albert locate a farm north of Hillsdale, 7 miles from Nash and 18 miles from Enid right in the wheat belt of Okla. They lived on this farm about 8 or 9 years farming 3 quarter sections and he had saved up $5,000 in Hillsdale and Nash banks. The Nash Bank went broke in 1918 (WWI) and they lost their savings but they survived with the farm, stock and implements. After 3 or 4 more years, Albert's health failed so they sold out and moved to Seiling, Okla. Where they lived another 20 years until Albert died in December 1948. After Alberts death Lida lived alone, but her son, James lives next door, he is a banker.

TRIBBEYs in Loudoun County Tithables List

Item (1a)

From: LOUDDOUN Cnty Tithables, Index only

TRIBBE, (Tibby, Trebbe, Trebe, Trebey, Treble, Tribbey, Tribby, Tribbee, Tribey, Triby)

James present in 1781s & 1784s

John, 1759, 1761-3, 65, 67-8, 70 71s-74s, 79s, 18s-82s, 84s

John Jr, 1779s, 82s

Jonathan, 1779s, 82s

Joseph, 1782s

Thomas, 1776s-77s, 1781s-84s

William, 1770, 1771s-74s, 1776s-77s, 1779s

The (s) indicates Shelbourne Parish which was formed in 1769, but this division was not reflected in the Tax Lists until 1771. It was seperated from Cameron Parish which was created in 1748, before the formation of Loudoun County (1757).

Cameron Parish was part of Fairfax County before the formation of Loudoun County, but we have not found any Tribbey/Tribby in Fairfax County records. Why ?

From this list we can deduce that all the Virginia TRIBBEYs that we know about were in Loudoun Cnty during this period of history. GET.

The Tax Lists of 1787 and 1789 show some but not all of these persons to still remain in Loudoun Cnty.

James Trebe/Tribbee shows in the 1810 U S Census in Fleming Cnty, Knty. He purchased land in 1807 and witnessed a land sale in 1809 ?

John Tribby Sr may be the older and first of the TRIBBEY/TRIBBY lines that we know about now.

Chronological order by these dates;

TRIBBEY, JOHN (P) 1759 - 1784 - 1787 who married Elizabeth Fabian;

William 1770 - 1779 may be the William in Frederick Cnty or the William in Greene Co, PA (1830) & Monroe Co, VA (1840) and again in Greene Cnty, Penn (1850);

Thomas Sr 1776 - 1784 - 1787 - 1789 father of Thomas Jr who was father of Thomas III who married Deborah Poulson;

John Jr 1779 - 1782 - 1787 - 1789 who married Martha
. parents of John III who moved to Ohio;

Jonathan 1779 - 1784 - 1787 - 1789 who married ?
DAVIS - children not found yet;

James 1781 - 1784 - 1787 - 1789 husband of Elizabeth
. . . Moved to Kentucky;

James s/o Thomas Sr 1787 - 1789 he married Tamar Poulton;

Joseph 1782 - - 1787 - 1789 who married Ruth Gregg.

Kentucky, located in the E central region, it was admitted to the Union in 1792 as the 15th state and the first W of the Appalachian Mountains. Missouri is to the W; its northern boundary with Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio is the Ohio River. West Virginia and Virginia are to the E and Tennessee to the S. The name probably comes from the Iroquois "kentake," meaning "meadowland."

In the 17th century this region was wild and inaccessible. France was the first to claim it, with Great Britain showing interest later. The first major expedition into Kentucky was undertaken in 1750 by Dr. Thomas Walker for the Loyal Land Company. Hunters and scouts began to penetrate the region, as did Christopher Gist for the Ohio Company. Exploration was interrupted by the French and Indian War and by Pontiac's Rebellion of 1763 to 1766. The British won both wars, and settlers began to move in, although a royal proclamation forbade settlement west of the Appalachians. The famous scout, Daniel Boone, was in Kentucky in 1767 and again in 1769, but there was no permanent settlement until 1774 at Harrodsburg.

In 1775, Boone, acting as agent for the Transylvania Company, blazed the Wilderness Road from Tennessee into Kentucky and founded Boonesboro. The road, through the Cumberland Gap into the still-famous Bluegrass Country and on to the Ohio River, was the main land route for settlers from 1790 to 1840. The early pioneers fought many times with the Indians, and Kentucky became known as the "Dark and Bloody Ground." Pinckney's Treaty of 1795 with Spain, followed by the Louisiana Purchase of 1803, opened the Mississippi River to American boats and goods and stimulated Kentucky's growth.

Opposition to the Alien and Sedition Acts of 1798 brought about the formulation of the Kentucky and Virginia Resolutions, the Kentucky statement having actually been drafted by Thomas Jefferson. These resolutions were the first important statements of the theory of states' rights. After the War of 1812 financial problems led to a political split between the followers of Henry Clay of Kentucky and Andrew Jackson of Tennessee. Slavery declined after 1830, and from 1833 to 1850 importing slaves was forbidden. The situation changed, however, and Kentucky became a slave market, supplying the lower South. There was profound disagreement over slavery in the state, however, and when the Civil War began, Kentucky tried to remain neutral, warning both sides not to invade it. The warning was ignored, the Confederacy invading in 1861, only to be driven out by General Ulysses S. Grant. Three battles were fought on Kentucky soil in 1862, but none after that. Some 30,000 Kentuckians served in the Confederate forces and more than twice that number in the Union ranks.

After the war industry was aided by the coming of the railroad, but farmers, with their one-crop system of tobacco, did not fare so well. In the early 20th century a feud between tobacco growers and buyers led to the Black Patch War, an attempt to boycott the buyers. It was not until 1908 that the state militia forced an agreement. After World War I there were labor troubles in Kentucky's coal fields, especially in Harlan County. The United Mine Workers' attempt to organize the miners met with violence, and it was 1939 before the union was recognized.

Kentucky was also long known for its mountain family feuds, such as that of the Hatfields and McCoys. In politics, the Democrats were dominant for many years, but the state now often votes Republican in presidential elections. Except for one disturbance in 1956, school integration caused little trouble.

Frankfort is the capital, and Louisville is the largest city. Other cities include Bowling Green, Covington, Lexington, Owensboro, and Paducah.
